Completing 6 decades as one of America’s most beloved entertainers, Rosemary Clooney garnered numerous awards and may best be recognized for her starring role with Bing Crosby in “White Christmas.” The Wall Street Journal called this Girl Singer “A pop icon and spoken in the same breath as Sinatra and Ella Fitzgerald.” Her last recording with Concord Records, “Sentimental Journey” garnered her a Grammy Nomination. She didn’t win, but was awarded the Lifetime Achievement Award on February 28, 2002. Recovering from her January 2002 lung cancer surgery, Rosemary was unable to attend the ceremonies. Several years ago, Rosemary received an Emmy nomination for her guest appearance on NBC’s top-rated “ER.”
